

Psychological Distress

CRISIS

- You are thinking about harming yourself or others.
- You are losing control.
- Dial 911 or go to the Emergency.

When to seek professional help

- You are experiencing distress.
- You have trouble concentrating, sleeping, eating or performing your regular activities because of how you are feeling.
- You feel like you are no longer able to manage your emotions or cope with certain situations.
- You are very anxious or depressed.
- Your sadness or worries are robbing you of your ability to do things you enjoy.

How to get help

- 24/7, dial 811 option 2
- Call the helpline 1-866-APPELLE
- Call your CLSC
- If you have a case worker, call them
- Call Drugs Help and Referral - Alcohol, Drugs and Medication at 1-800-461-0140 or aidedroque.ca/en
- Find an appointment on rvsq.gouv.qc.ca

This booklet is not intended to replace the advice of a medical professional, nor is it intended to be a substitute for medical care.

Distress is a feeling of anguish or imbalance that can occur at any time. Sadness, anxiety, irritability or trouble sleeping and concentrating are signs of distress.

Self-care

Breathe: Inhale slowly through the nose and exhale gently through the mouth.

Feelings: Talk about your feelings with someone you trust. If that person isn't available, writing down your thoughts can be helpful.

Location: If possible, go somewhere you feel comfortable.

Relaxing activity: Do something relaxing: listen to soothing music, read a book or meditate.

Temporary feeling: Distress is often temporary. Remember that unpleasant emotions fade with time.

Help: If you feel at risk or overwhelmed, call an emergency service such as 811 option 2.

Logo CIUSSS
fond transparent